New Yorkers get on their bikes in style

Wed Jun 3, 2009 11:54am EDT

By Jui Chakravorty Das

NEW YORK, (Reuters Life!) - New Yorkers are getting on their bicycles and they are doing it in style.

Frumpy, unfashionable gear has given way to sophisticated, chic and affordable designs by fashion students as more city dwellers abandon the buses and subways to pedal to work.

"New York should have not only the most bicyclists, but the most stylish ones as well," Patti Harris, the first deputy mayor of New York, told a news conference.

Promoting bicycling is part of Mayor Michael Bloomberg's agenda to create a greener, bike friendly and car-free New York.

Following the examples of cycling cities such as Amsterdam and Beijing, New York has built 200 miles of bike lanes in the past three years. An estimated 185,000 New Yorkers cycled to work in 2008, an increase of 35 percent from the previous year.

In keeping with the city's efforts to promote cycling, luxury apparel maker LVMH Moet Hennessy Louis Vuitton asked students at the Fashion Institute of Technology to create chic yet affordable cycling gear.

"We want to do everything we can to raise the profile of biking in New York," Janette Sadik-Khan, commissioner of the New York City Department of Transportation, said at the news conference to announce the winning design.

"Having functioning, attractive gear so you can arrive at work looking stylish should be very encouraging," she said. "No one wants to show up at work looking like bike messengers."

A sleek jacket, designed by Jessica Velasques, made of nylon mesh with an iPod pocket, an opening for earphones, adjustable waist and a hidden hood was the winning design.

Velasques also created a poncho with a removable hood, magnetic closures and sleek pockets with bolt button details, which was accompanied by a strap bag that zips open into a large garment bag and holds an extra bag to stack a pair of shoes inside.

Actor Matthew Modine, who founded Bicycle for a Day which encourages people to use bicycles more, said cycling can also help people cope with the slow economy by cutting costs for car insurance, tolls and gasoline.

"Imagine how wonderful life would be if you don't have to park to watch a musical, you have an extra $30."

The DKNY division of Donna Karen International will develop the prototypes of the winning designs. They will be unveiled in conjunction with the city's "Summer Streets" program, when a 6.9-mile route from the Brooklyn Bridge to Central Park will be closed to traffic so people can run, bike, walk and take part in activities on three Saturday mornings in August. MEETING MINUTES

June 4, 2009

- 1) Call to order –President Gregg Eisenstein called the meeting to order at 7:35 PM. Approximately 45 members and guests were in attendance.
- 2) Acceptance of Minutes – the minutes of the May 7, 2009 meeting were accepted as published on the SBRA web site.
- 3) Treasurer’s Report (Joe Matzelle): Joe reported on the club’s current balance and recent expenditures. Joe noted that through June 3 we have received 690 pre-registrations for Bike-Boat Bike. Joe requested that all reimbursements of BBB expenses should be submitted as soon as possible so that a full accounting of receipts and expenses can be made at the July meeting. Further, Joe noted that a number of changes have been made to the current year budget to account for additional advertising revenue, the elimination of the cost of printing Rolling Wheels and increased costs associated with food for the general and executive board meetings.

4) Committee Reports:

- a. Statistician (Joe Matzelle) – Joe reported on the club miles, rides and mileage leaders to date. A full report will appear on line, which will now be updated twice monthly. Joe notes that he is still missing many ride sheets from various ride leaders and reminded the members that ride credit cannot be awarded unless the ride sheets are turned in.
- b. Membership – (Norm Samuels) – there are presently 589 members, including 104 families and 13 new members.
- c. Sunshine (Bruce Presner) – Bruce has sent get-well cards to Joe Abruzzo, and Costa Triculis. He also reported that Anne Daley is back on the road after recovering from a bad crash.
- d. Webmaster (Percy Zahl) – There was no formal report his month.
- e. Advocacy (Paul Miklean) – Paul has submitted a list of roads that have been identified by SBRA members as “hazardous” to the Town of Brookhaven Cycling Advocacy Committee, which in turn has referred the list to the Highway Department for review.
Also:

- i. NYS has created a “Scenic Byways” program to develop multi-use paths on the parkways south of the Sunrise Highway. Although most of the roads are in Nassau County, Ocean Parkway may be of interest to SBRA members.
- ii. Paul brought the Town of Brookhaven Public Service Announcement on safe cycling that has been running on the town cable access channel. We viewed the video following the business portion of the meeting.

- f. Education/Safety (Gordon Howard) – Gordon discussed various aspects of riding safely in traffic. It was pointed out by various members that signaling and not blocking the road are of critical importance.
- g. Social (Mike Warner) - Mike advised that the e-mail to members announcing the date of the picnic will go out in the next few days. We still need volunteers to help out during the picnic. The picnic is scheduled for July 19 at Indian Island County Park in Riverhead.
- h. Rides –
 - i. Bike-Boat-Bike: Sue Sherman advised that preparations are basically complete. A few volunteers are still needed for post-ride cleanup at the bank. The Pre-Event party for volunteers will be held at the Holtsville Ecology Park on Saturday, June 6 at 1:30PM. Please come early to help load the truck.
 - ii. Montauk Century – Pete Olivieri advises the rider survey gave this year's ride high ratings for the overall ride.
 - iii. Bloomin' Metric – Poor weather reduced the number of SBRA participants.
 - iv. Guide Dog Ride – Jeff Meyer announced that the 20th Anniversary Guide Dog ride has been scheduled for Sunday, September 13. Advertising for the ride will appear on the SBRA web site this week. Jeff is looking for volunteers for various activities in support of the ride.

- v. Adopt-a-Road: Bob DeVito noted that the first clean up was held on Saturday, May 17. Eight members rode to Sayville then spent about half an hour picking up litter on Buckley Road.
- vi. Riverhead Bike Day – Jeff Meyer reported that SBRA provided ride marshals for the 15 mile family-oriented ride on May 30. Events included a Bike Rodeo with bike safety and handling tips for kids.

5) Old Business:

- a. Road ID – We will do one more order for club members by from June 28 to mid-July.
- b. Joe Matzelle advised that the Club has set up a PayPal account and will begin accepting membership dues shortly. Eventually we will also extend this to registration for club events and for the purchase of club merchandise.
- c. Newsletter Committee – Bob DeVito is still looking for volunteers interested in developing the new on-line Rolling Wheels.
- d. Club Historian - Anyone interested in working on this project should contact Bob. We have no recorded history of the club, which has been in existence for 32 years.

6) New Business:

- a. Peter Olivieri raised the issue of increasing participation by other L.I. clubs in our annual multi-club ride. One suggestion is that we offer a start in western Suffolk that would be more appealing to riders in Nassau County or Queens. Both the Suffolk CC campus in Brentwood and the Islip court complex were proposed as potential locations.
- b. Rafael Aguayo raised an issue with the rides classified as B+/A. His experience is that these rides have tended to be geared toward A level riders and that B+ riders either struggle to stay with the group or are dropped. A recommendation was made that any split level ride should have two ride leaders so that the ride can be split into a faster and a slower group as necessary.
- c. Bob DeVito announced that we need more rides at the C and D levels to encourage new riders to join and stay with the club. He has asked Bill Pope to create ride coordinator positions for these levels to expand the number of rides available.
- d. Norman Samuels proposed that we give ride credits to club members who lead rides at events in which the Club participates (like the Riverhead Ride Day). Bob commented that this would be included in the work that Barbara Braun is doing on rewards for volunteering within the club.
- e. Brenda Meyer proposed that the club donate $100.00 to a rider who is seeking to raise $10,000 for Ovarian Cancer research. A motion to make the donation was seconded and approved by the members in attendance.

- f. Bob DeVito mentioned that the Babylon to the Beach ride in support of the Wounded Warrior Project would be held on Friday July 24. This is an open ride sponsored by the Suffolk Police with a $25 entry fee. Bob requested that the Club donate $100 to this cause, which was seconded and approved by the members in attendance.
- g. Bob also noted that he is forming a Ride Mentoring Program to pair an experience club member with a new rider or a current rider who is considering moving up in class.
- 7) Adjournment - the meeting was adjourned at 8; 55 PM. Following the business portion of the meeting we viewed the Brookhaven Cycling PA and heard presentations from:
- Team in Training – Erica Lux and Tara Murphy spoke about the Sea Coast Century on 9/26/09. Team in raining will be sending a group to participate.
 - John Burgess of Bike New York gave a short presentation on the LI Harbors Ride to be held on June 28. Details can be found at BikeNY.org
 - Kevin Brennan gave a short presentation and slide show on his ride across the U.S. in 2008. Kevin is a retired Suffolk Police officer who rode from L.I. to San Francisco over the course of 106 days.

Project Bike Lane

By Eric Wilson June 2, 2009, 10:10 pm

There are many reasons why New York City commuters have been hesitant to bicycle to work in greater numbers: personal safety, the scarce availability of bike racks and the weather, among them. A perhaps more superficial consideration is figuring out something to wear that will be both functional and professional looking. Or, at the least, something that will not show grease stains.

“We have to make bicycling fun and elegant, which it is not yet in New York,” said Renaud Dutreil, the chairman of the North American arm of the luxury goods conglomerate LVMH, who rides a bike to his office on East 57th Street almost every day. On Tuesday, Mr. Dutreil, with the designer Donna Karan and department of transportation officials, introduced a project intended to encourage more professionals to follow suit, even when wearing a suit. This spring, the group sponsored a competition among students at the Fashion Institute of Technology to design a poncho, a jacket and a travel bag for bicycling with both safety and style in mind. The winning designs, by Jessica Velasquez, 21, from Queens, will be made into prototypes by DKNY.

Ms. Velasquez's designs were indeed innovative, like a poncho with reflective piping details and bungee cords sewn into the sides so that the length and fit can be adjusted so they won't drag into the bicycle wheels. She also designed a clever backpack that opens like an envelope and is still big enough to hold a garment bag, folded in half, inside.

Dear Mr. Samuels,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Suffolk Bike Riders for the help your organization provided at our first Riverhead Youth Bureau Family Bike Day. Your help kept our riders safe. A number of parents came to me at the end of the ride and said if it wasn't for the encouragement and help of the marshals they might not have made the trip.

Please thank the members of your organization who came to Riverhead for this event. One of the Youth Bureau's goals is to offer the young people in the Town of Riverhead, safe and healthy free time activities. This day brought families together for a fun filled day.

I hope you enjoyed the day as much as we enjoyed having you. We look forward to making this annual event.

On behalf of the entire Riverhead Youth Bureau Advisory Board, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your commitment to the young people in the Town of Riverhead.

Sincerely,

Donna Lyczkowski
